Model United Nations is a three-day experiential learning conference in early January designed to introduce students to the operation and structure of the United Nations while providing them with an opportunity to actively learn about world cultures and debate issues of international importance. Students will participate in conflict resolution, public speaking, and coalition building, in addition to making new friends and being exposed to new ideas. The program promotes leadership through character development, while introducing students to a vast array of ideas. Priding itself on its uniqueness as a student-run conference, our program provides an unprecedented opportunity to allow young people to grow and develop as communicators, researchers, negotiators, and leaders.
